

Oxford University

Oxford Brookes University

Maison Française d'Oxford

Society for the History of Alchemy and Chemistry

Oxford History of Chemistry Seminar

Workshop on

Academic chemistry, industrial innovation and artisanal practices in 18th-century Europe

Maison Française d'Oxford

Saturday, 10 November 2012

- 10.00            Coffee
- 10.15 - 10.30    Lissa Roberts (University of Twente) and John Perkins (Oxford Brookes University)
The project on Sites and networks of discipline formation and industrial practice in chemistry, 1760-1840
- 10.30 - 11.15    John Christie (Oxford University) "18th-century Britain: chemical practice in the market economy"
- 11.15 - 12.00    John Perkins "Chemical networks, chemical careers and innovation in Paris and Rouen"
- 12.00 - 12.20    Discussion chaired by Thomas Le Roux (Maison Française d'Oxford)
- 12.20 - 13.00    lunch
- 13.00 - 13.45    Marco Beretta (University of Bologna) "The Chemical Revolution and glass-making: two worlds apart?"
- 13.45 - 14.30    Ursula Klein (Max Planck Institute, Berlin) "Sites and practices of 'useful science': chemistry in 18th-century Europe with particular reference to Prussia"
- 14.30 - 15.30    Discussion chaired by Geert Vanpaemel (Catholic University of Louvain)
- 15.30            Tea
- 16.00 - 18.30    First meeting of the Steering Committee of the Situating Chemistry, 1760-1840

Marco Beretta (University of Bologna)

John Christie (University of Oxford)

Peter Jones (University of Birmingham)

Ursula Klein (Max Planck Institute for the History of Science, Berlin)

John Perkins (Oxford Brookes University)

Lissa Roberts (University of Twente)

Geert Vanpaemel (Catholic University of Louvain)

Simon Werrett (UCL, London)

